Tabitha Aspling is the Operations Director of Keating Wealth Management and responsible for client service.

Ms. Aspling has 17 years of Wall Street and related financial services experience.

She began her career at Morgan Stanley in 2000, initially serving as a client liaison for high net worth clients. Ms. Aspling held progressively senior roles at Morgan Stanley over five years, culminating in an Operations Manager position, where her responsibilities included training and supervising administrative staff for a thriving and rapidly growing branch office.

In 2007, Ms. Aspling joined an affiliate of Keating Investments, LLC, where she served as the firm's Financial and Operations Principal. In that capacity, she oversaw all compliance, operational and financial functions.

After a brief out-of-state sabbatical to care for family members, Ms. Aspling returned to Colorado to assume her current position.

Ms. Aspling is a 1998 graduate of the University of Nevada, Reno, with a B.A. in History.
